COMPLAINT

Above Plaintiff, DANIEL TILLI, files a Consumer Civil Action against Exxon-Mobil Oil Corporation of Dallas, Texas and its Chairman, Lee Raymond.

That for over a year said Defendants did willfully, with malice and illegally raised their price of gas and oil to excess profits for personal gains. That seniors and others suffer to pay high heating and travel expense which Plaintiff is one who had his rent raised, must pay higher cost of public transportation and uses friend's cars, and must pay higher gasoline prices on his retirement pension.

This identifies a sufficient injury in fact and it is now a case of controversy, genuine in nature, as even Congress has ordered hearings and calls them oil bandits.

In three months of 2005 alone, Defendants made $8 billion dollars clear profit by this excess increase of their products. This illegal act of Defendants violates the Consumer Protection Act and the Interstate Commerce Act as more than one state is paying their high prices for oil and gas.

As the Defendant oil corporation is the giant and the smaller oil corporations also followed with the raise of their products for personal gains.

This Court has jurisdiction under Title 28 1391 C -- -1343-2

WHEREFORE for the price gouging, price fixing and violations and disregard for the health and safety of others, Plaintiff is entitled to and demands relief in the sum of One Million Dollars actual damage and Three Million punitive Damages from Defendants.
